Individuals with Prader-Willi Syndrome ages 18-64 – Join our study!
This study involves TMS*, MRI scans, and behavioral questionnaires

Principal Investigator:
Dr. Laura Holsen

Co-Investigators:
Dr. Mark Halko
Dr. Roscoe Brady

*TMS (transcranial magnetic stimulation) is a noninvasive method that uses a magnet to activate specific brain areas and has been used for 20 years in psychiatry.

Up to $1,000 compensation
Up to $150 compensation for caregivers

Who may participate:
• Adults with PWS between the ages of 18 and 64 years old

Interested? Scan the QR Code and contact Lilly Hacsi, Research Assistant, at 617-732-4268 or lhacsi@bwh.harvard.edu